The Historical Influence of International Banking

Chapter 1 The Knights Templar

The first International Bankers were the Knights Templar, a secretive society created and sponsored by an even more secret society known as the "Priory De Scion" during the time of the Christian Crusades to recapture the Holy Lands from Muslim control.¹

The "Priory De Scion" has had considerable historical influence in Europe from the time of the Crusades to the present. The reason that most persons have not heard of the "Priory De Scion" is that they work secretly behind the scenes.

Christopher Columbus was a secret member of the "Priory De Scion" and on his voyage of discovery to the "New World," his Flag Ship had the Templar Cross emblem on the Main Sail. This was unusual because the Templars had been outlawed by that time in history.

A list of the "Grand Masters of the Priory De Scion" would include such notables as Leonardo Da Vinci and Sir Isaac Newton. This secret organization still wields extraordinary secret power in modern Europe and has exercised a large influence in creating the present European Union.²

The Knights Templar were required to take oaths of poverty and chastity to become members. Their stated mission was to guard the roads to the Holy Land. Their popularity became so great that they became a political force with which even kings had to reckon.

They created safe depositories where lords could leave their treasure in safekeeping while on pilgrimages to Jerusalem. These early form of banks, which were created across Europe and the Middle East from France to Jerusalem, were the first international banks.

They also developed an early system of checks so that money could be drawn from a "bank" in Jerusalem by a Lord writing a check based on his treasure being held in a Paris bank.

On Friday the 13th of 1307, the Templars were Outlawed by a Papal Bull which charged them with Heresy. On this unlucky day, all the Knight Templar in France were simultaneously arrested. Many were surprised by this unexpected turn of events because the Knights Templar were considered the army of the Catholic Church.³

In fact, it took considerable effort on the part of the King of France, Phillip IV, to influence the Pope to make this declaration. Part of this effort included holding relatives of the Pope hostage to insure the declaration was made.

Phillip IV had his own motives. He had borrowed heavily from the Templar Treasury to finance his wars against England. If he could get the Templars outlawed, not only could the debt be cancelled but the Templar banks, with their treasure, could be seized.

The Priory De Scion's intelligence network had advance knowledge of the King's secret plan to have the Knights Templar outlawed and arrested. They advised the Templars to give up peacefully. They were told that they would be protected by the Church and found innocent at a later trial.

All the treasure in the Templar banks was removed from France accompanied by the best Templar Knights on the Templar Fleet which sailed to Scotland. Later, this treasure and these fighting Knights were allied with Scotland's Fight for independence from England.

While Jacques de Molay, the Templar leader of France, was imprisoned, he secretly directed the establishment of Occult or Hermetic Masonry, establishing four Lodges; one in Naples, one at Edinburgh, one at Stockholm, and one at Paris.⁴

The Templars, which were arrested, were not protected by the Church as expected. Many were horribly tortured to extract confessions of guilt. Their leader, Jacques De Molay was burned at the stake in a public square of Paris.

Just before his death, De Molay placed a curse on the King of France and the Pope stating that he would see them before the throne of God before a year passes. Perhaps due to the secret influence of the Priory De Scion, the Pope and King perished within the year in a strange and sudden manner. Squin de Florin, the chief denouncer of the Templars was assassinated.

Outlawing of the Knights Templars drove them underground as the secret order of the Free Masons throughout Europe. The Freemasons became the arch enemies of the Catholic Church, because of the perceived betrayal of the Templars by the Church, and worked behind the scenes to promote the later Protestant Reformation, and more freedom for mankind.

The Vatican's militant order of the Jesuits was sent to England to fight the heresy of Protestantism. Jesuits diligently searched for heretics to punish, thus guaranteeing that Freemasons would keep their secrets well hidden if they wished to keep their heads.

John Locke, used the Masonic Charges in writing the Constitution for the proposed colony of South Carolina, which was to later become a bastion for Freemasonry. Also, the writings of Sir Francis Bacon demonstrated the philosophies of the Freemasons. The founders of the Virginia Company were also Freemasons.

Later the Masons would make their presence felt in the New World with the Boston Tea Party, organized by the Boston Freemason Lodge and the Declaration of Independence. The latter document was composed and signed primarily by Freemasons. George Washington and most of his Generals were also Freemasons. In truth, without the Freemasons there would have been no United States of America!

Chapter 2

The Money Lenders of Amsterdam

The next significant impact on history was made by the Jewish money lenders of Amsterdam. These money lenders had considerable influence in the "behind the scenes" politics. The Jewish Rabbi who were the religious and political leaders of the scattered Jewish people and the Jewish money lenders combined their forces in a group known as the "Elders of Zion."⁵ From 1640 to 1689, these "Elders of Zion" in Holland plotted the English Revolution, and were lending money to the various factions.

These Jewish money lenders used their influence to elevate Mr. William Stradholder to Captain General of the Dutch Forces and then to William, Prince of Orange. Then, they arranged the meeting of William Stradholder with the English Duke of York's eldest daughter, Mary.

The Duke of York was next in line to be the King of England. In 1677, Prince William of Orange married Princess Mary of York. When the Duke of York suddenly died, Prince William of Orange and Mary became the next King and Queen of England in 1689.

Then, King William persuaded the British Treasury to borrow one and a quarter million British pounds from the Dutch bankers who had placed him in power. The terms of the loan were as follows:

1. The names of the lenders be kept secret and that they be granted a charter to establish a bank of England.
2. The directors of said bank be granted the legal right to establish the gold standard for paper currency.
3. That they be allowed to lend out 10 pounds of paper currency for every 1 pound of gold held on deposit.
4. That they be allowed to consolidate the national debt and secure amounts due as principal and interest by a direct taxation of the people.

This form of "fractional banking" would allow 50% yearly return on actual bank assets at an interest rate of 5% per year. And the people of England would pay the bill! A similar banking scheme would later appear in the United States with the Federal Reserve Act of 1913.

These lenders never intended that the loans be repaid for they profited mainly from the interest and the indebtedness gave them political leverage. England's national debt went from 1,250,000 Pounds in 1694 to 16,000,000 Pounds in 1698.⁵

Mystery often surrounds that secretive centre of international banking, the House of Rothschild. In 1750, Mayer Amschel Bauer purchased his fathers banking business in Frankfurt and changed his name to Rothschild. Mayer became married and had five sons and five daughters. His sons names were Amschel, Salamon, Nathan, Kalmann, and Jacob.

His fortunes increased when he came into the good graces of the Prince William IX of Hess-Hanau, whom was known to have attended Freemason meetings in Germany.

This Prince derived a large income from renting his Hessian mercenary army out to the King of England. These same troops would later combat George Washington's revolutionary army at Valley Forge.

Rothschild became Prince William's trusted banker. When Prince William had to flee to Denmark because of political upheaval in Germany, he left six hundred pounds, the mercenary army's payroll, in Rothschild's bank for safekeeping.

The money was then sent to London with Nathan Rothschild to start a bank there. Gold was brought from the East India Company for use as security.

Fourfold profits were made on paper money loans to finance the Duke of Wellington's military operations, and later, on the sale of the gold which was supposed to be the security for the paper money.

This was the beginning of the great fortune of the House of Rothschild. An international banking operation was started by setting each son with a bank in different countries; Amschel in Berlin, Salamon in Vienna, Jacob in Paris and Kalamann in Naples. Salamon Rothschild was a member of the Freemasons.

Meyer Rothschild made a will which outlined how the family fortune was to be managed. The males would manage the fortune, the eldest son would have the deciding vote when disagreements would arise and all accounting and other records would be kept strictly secret not even open to governments.³

In 1773, Meyer Rothschild held a secret meeting in the House of Rothschild at Jundestrasse, Frankfurt Germany, with twelve wealthy and influential European Financiers to discuss a manual of action to gain eventual control of the entire wealth of the world.

At this meeting, the English Revolution and the means of gaining control of England's wealth was discussed and the formal outline which would eventually be known as the 24 "Protocols of the Elders of Zion" were outlined. These Protocols had their roots in the Sanhedren during the Babylonian captivity of Israel and were develop as a means to covertly destabilize enemy nations. These Protocols were kept quite secret, but in 1901, these documents fell into the hands of Russian Professor S. Nilus. He had them published in Russian under the title: "The Jewish Peril." Victor Marsden then had them translated into English under the title: "The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion" in 1921. These may have changed somewhat since the original meeting in 1773.

The First Protocol stressed the importance of gaining control of money in order to gain control of a nation:

"...Whether a State exhausts itself in it's own convulsions, whether it's internal discord brings it under the power of external foes, in any case it can be accounted irretrievably lost: It is in our power. The despotism of Capital, which is entirely in our hands, reaches out to it a straw that the State, willy nilly must take hold of, if not it goes to the bottom. ..."

The second Protocol stressed the need to control the press:

"...In the hands of the States of today there is a great force that creates the movement of thought in the people, and that is the Press. ..."

The third Protocol shows the means of increasing their power:

"...We appear on the scene as the alleged saviours of the worker from this oppression when we propose to him to enter the ranks of our fighting forces Socialists, Anarchists, Communists To whom we always give support in accordance with an alleged brotherly rule (of the solidarity of all humanity) of our social masonry. ..."

The fourth protocol states the need to lesson the peoples faith in God:

"...It is indispensable for us to undermine all faith, to tear out of the minds of the Goyim (Gentile) the very principle of Godhead and the spirit, and to put in its place arithmetical calculations and material need. ..."

The fifth protocol states the need to create confusion:

"...In order to put public opinion into our hands we must bring it into a state of bewilderment by giving expression from all sides so many contradictory opinions and for such length of time as will suffice to make the Goyim loose their head in the labyrinth and come to see that the best thing is to have no opinion of any kind in matters political. ..."

The sixth protocol states the need to create the desire for luxury in the common man:

"... To complete the ruin of the industry of the Goyim ... we have developed among the Goyim the greedy demand for luxury that is swallowing up everything ... We shall raise the state of wages, which however, will not bring any advantage to the worker, for at the same time, we shall produce a rise in prices --- in order that the true meaning of things will not strike the Goyim before the proper time, we shall mask it under an alleged ardent desire to serve the working classes and the great principles of political economy about which our economic theories are carrying on an energetic propaganda."

The seventh protocol states the means to gain control of existing governments:

"The intensification of armaments, the increase of police forces are all essential for the completion of the aforementioned plans. What we have to get at is that there shall be in all the States of the world, besides ourselves, only the masses of the proletariat, a few millionaires devoted to our interests, police and soldiers. ..."

The eight protocol shows the means of training and controlling national leaders:

"... Our directorate must surround itself with all those forces of civilization among which it will have to work. It will surround itself with publicists, practical jurists, public administrators, diplomats, and finally with persons prepared by a special super educational training in our special schools ... For a time until there no longer be any risk in entrusting responsible posts in our States to brother Jews, we shall put them in the hands of persons whose past and reputation are such that between them and the people there lays an abyss, persons who in case of disobedience to our instructions, must face criminal charges or disappear. This in order to make them defend our interests to their last gasp."

The ninth protocol shows the means of using human weakness to create the international super government:

"... And the weapons in our hands are limitless ambitions, burning greediness, merciless vengeance, hatreds and malice. It is from us that the all engulfing terror proceeds. We have in our services persons of all opinions, of all doctrines, restoring monarchists, demagogues, socialists, communists, and utopian dreamers of every kind. We have harnessed them all to the task: Each one of them on his own account is boring away at the last remnants of authority, is striving to overthrow all established forms of order. By these acts all states are in torture; they exhort to tranquility, are ready to sacrifice anything for peace: But we will not give them peace until they openly acknowledge our international Super Government, and with submissiveness."

There are 24 of these Protocols and these are but short excerpts from some given to convey the spirit of their method for overthrowing the Nations of the World. A complete reading of the Protocols would reveal why the present World is in the present confused mess.

Chapter 3 The Illuminati

After outlining the plan for world domination, the Banking house of Rothschild commissioned Adam Wieshaupt to form the secret Order of the Illuminati.

Adam Wieshaupt was raised in a Jesuit convent and eventually became a professor of Canon law. Later, as he became disillusioned with Catholicism, he became the personal student of the Jewish philosopher Mendelssohn, and was converted to Gnosticism.

Illuminism certainly existed before Adam Wieshaupt made his appearance in the world. The inner circle of initiates of the Rosecrucians Order were considered "illuminated." This term was in reference to the auric light that surrounded one who was truly bathed in the light of the spirit.

This was considered a very real phenomenon in Europe before the infection of cartesian logic which denied the existence of spirit. For example, certain contemporaries were said to have witnessed the glowing aura of Saint Francis De Assisi. Enlightenment had been considered a worthy quest since the times of Hermes.

However, it was Adam Wieshaupt who formed the secret order of Illuminati which has proven to be a tremendous deception. Here Novitiates were told that the Illuminati held the secrets to many great mysteries which they could gradually be initiated into as they progressed through the degrees and were proven worthy. This "secret knowledge" proved to be an enticing lure to many worthy persons.

The stated purpose of the Illuminati was to eliminate all the evil conditions of society and return man to his natural happy state. Since this meant tearing down the powerful Monarchy and the Church, dangerous enemies would be created. So, secrecy was an important feature of the Order.

The Illuminati was organized as circles within circles, with certain levels of secrecy maintained on the inner circles. Only those in the innermost circles knew the true goals of the Illuminati. Members in the lower degrees were told that there were no higher degrees and their Grandmaster's identity was kept secret.

Deception is the secret of this organization's success and truth it's greatest enemy. The Organization has a global reach today. The outward manifestation of the Illuminati is the "New World Order." However, the men truly at the "levers of control" are safely hidden from the public eye.

This fantastic deception was conceived while Wieshaupt was employed as a professor of Cannon law at the University of Ingolstadt in Bavaria. The Illuminati was formally founded by Wieshaupt on May 1, 1776.

Ironically, this secret order was being formed at the same time as the greatest document to insure human freedom, the United States Constitution. The two have been at cross purposes ever since. The creation of the United States was largely the work of the true Freemason Lodges. The organizers of the American Revolution and signers of the U.S. Constitution, were primarily members of Freemason Lodges. While on the other hand, the disastrous French and Russian Revolutions with their following reigns of terror and worsening of the human condition, were largely the work of the "Illuminised" Freemason Lodges of continental Europe which were named "Grand Orient Lodges."

Part of the ingenious organization of the Illuminati likely stemmed from Wieshaupt's early training in a Jesuit Order. It must be remembered that the Jesuits were considered the "Vatican's secret service" in the continual war of Protestant suppression. It was a militant religious order that had a long history of murder and intrigue, notable examples being the massacre of the Huguenots in France and the "Gun Powder Plot" in England.

The system of secrecy of the Illuminati was quite simple: The leader worked directly with two men under him. Each of these two men again worked with two men and so on. The lower men in this hierarchy knew their immediate superior but not their superior's superior. Through this chain of command tremendous influence could be wielded without public awareness of the true source of this influence.

To further increase the efficiency of this secret order, many of the most promising were initiated. These often were persons of wealthy families, magistrates or the higher degrees of the Freemason Lodges. The initiated were called "Patriarchs."

Also, a system of spying was developed. "Every person shall be made a spy on another and on all around him ... he shall attempt to discover their strong side and their weak, their passions, their prejudices, their connections, and above all, their actions." Adepts, called Insinuants or "Insinuating Brothers," were required to file reports twice a month to their superiors, "So that the Order may know which are the people in each town and village that they can look to for support."

Other purposes were served by this system of spying. Personnel files could be established on each Patriarch which would accurately determine his personality profile. Then, each could be placed in positions where their talents would be of the greatest service to the Order. The more notable indiscretions committed by a Patriarch were also recorded for possible blackmail purposes should the need arise. And, any secret subversion from within the Illuminati Order could be quickly detected and dealt with.

On July 16, 1782, at the Congress of Wilhelmsbad, an alliance between Freemasonry and the Illuminati was sealed. This pact united about 3 million members of the leading secret societies of that time.

One order of business at the Congress was to allow Jews to become members. This was at a time when Jews had few rights and were still being sorely prosecuted in Europe.

All that passed at this meeting will perhaps never be known since all attending were sworn to complete secrecy. Comte de Virieu, one Freemason present at the Congress, was asked what secrets had transpired.

He replied, "I will not confide them to you. I can only tell you that all this is very much more serious than you think. The conspiracy which has been woven is so well thought out that it will be, so to speak, impossible for the Monarchy and the Church to escape from it."

Some subversive secrets started to leak from the Illuminati and by October 11, 1785 the Bavarian Elector ordered a raid on the home of Wieshaupt's chief assistant, Herr Von Zwack. Many documents were recovered during this raid which outlined the Illuminati's plan for world wide revolution. The Bavarian Elector decided to have the papers published as "Original Writings of the Order and Sect of the Illuminati." These papers were circulated as widely as possible as a warning to the European Monarchies.

Wieshaupt was dismissed from his position as Professor and went into hiding with another Illuminati member, the Duke of Saxe Gotha. While allowing the lie that the Illuminati had been dissolved to be believed, the secret Order continued its work in secrecy under organizations with other names.

Within a year, the "German Union" surfaced, passing Illuminati propaganda on to the many "Reading Societies" then in existence. Here the slogan "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity" was born. The Monarchs of Europe were heedless of the danger and soon the French Revolution and the "Reign of Terror" were to follow.

The secret history of the Illuminati claims that Wieshaupt foresaw the French Revolution and wanted to push it on to even greater ends. He is said to be the founder of the first "Communist International." Furthermore, the House of Rothschild was the treasurer of the first Comintern. As we shall see, the unlikely alliance between Capitalist and Communist is a standard modus operandi of the Illuminati.

In 1830, Wieshaupt died at the age of 82. In 1834, Giuseppe Mazzini was appointed as director of the Illuminati. He held this position until his death in 1872. One branch of the Illuminati at that time, known as "The League of the Just" hired Moses Mordecai Marx Levi (alias Karl Marx) to write for them.

While Giuseppe Mazzini was the head of the Illuminati in Europe, he corresponded with Albert Pike, the Sovereign Grand Commander of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry of the Southern Jurisdiction U.S.A.

A letter dated August 15, 1871, Pike gives Mazzini a detailed plan for World conquest in three World Wars: The first war would destroy Czarist Russia and place that vast territory under the control of the Illuminati. The second war would be manipulated by the differences between the Political Zionists and the German Nationalists. This would lead to the expansion of Russian power and the creation of a state of Israel in Palestine. The third war would stir up the differences between the State of Israel and the Arab Muslims.

Chapter 4

World Revolution and World War

If you were extremely clever and worldly wise and you wished to invade another country and gain control of that Nation's wealth ,what would be the most effective way to accomplish that end?

A military invasion is too crude. In the first place, the country may be largely destroyed and it's wealth generating productivity severely impaired. In the second place, an occupation army would be expensive to maintain and would spend most of it's time fighting national patriot guerilla armies. This continual fighting would further diminish the wealth generating ability of the conquered Nation. The military approach would be like killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

The best invasion is one that no one is aware has taken place! If you could quietly infiltrate your agents into the target country and place them in positions to tap that country's wealth unbeknown to that country's citizens, you could carry out a gigantic hold up with out firing a shot.

Of course you probably couldn't get away with it for long without being discovered unless you could also gain control of that country's news media sources. As you continued in your grand deception and larceny you would probably consider it expedient to gradually gain control of that country's other governing agencies like the military and the civilian government. And, that task would be made easier by the vast sums of money that you siphoned from the target country's national coffers.

The founder of the Banking House of Rothschild stated: "Give me the power to control the issue of a nation's currency and I care not who makes that nation's laws."

The International Banking House of Rothschild had already gained controlling influence over France and England by the early 1800's and was extending it's influence into the newly independent United States through their agents, notably Alexander Hamilton from New York.

New York was originally called "New Amsterdam" and was largely a settlement of Colonists from Holland. Some of these settlers were related to the Money lenders of Amsterdam. The first Illuminati stronghold in the United States was in New York with the inauguration of the Columbian Lodge!

Benjamin Franklin understood the dangers of a privately owned Central Bank controlling the issue of the Nation's currency and resisted the charter of a central bank until his death. Then Hamilton prevailed and the First Bank of America was chartered for a 20 year period.

In this 20 year period, the Central Bank caused financial havoc through its policies of creating cycles of inflation and tight money. During times of inflation, the economy would boom. There would be high employment, and people would borrow money to buy houses and farms. Then tight money would cause a depression and unemployment. People who could not pay their mortgages would have their homes and farms repossessed by the bank for a fraction of their true value. These policies caused the banks to profit greatly at the expense of the people.

For these reasons, the Charter for the First Bank of America was not renewed. This angered the Rothschilds who used their influence in the British Parliament to attempt to retake the Colonies in the War of 1812.

The first military attempt failed. The second strategy was to divide and conquer. The serious historian will find that the Civil War was largely stirred up by Rothschild's Illuminati agents in the United States.

One of these prominent Illuminati Orders was the secret "Order of Skull & Bones," Chapter 322, founded at Yale University in 1833 by William Huntington Russell and Alphonso Taft. The "Order" was incorporated as the "Russell Trust" in 1856.

William Russel became a member of the Connecticut State Legislature in 1846 and a General in Connecticut National Guard in 1862. Alphonso Taft became Secretary of War in the Grant Administration in 1876, U.S. Attorney General in 1876 and U.S. Ambassador to Russia in 1884. Alphonso Taft's son later became Chief Justice and United States President.

One researcher claims that this secret Order originated in Germany about the time the Bavarian Illuminati was outlawed in 1786 by the Bavarian Elector. William Russell brought the secret Order to Yale from his student days in Germany in 1831 to 1832. As an ancient tradition, the gravestones of Master Masons would have a skull and crossbones engraved on them. The name of this secret society probably is derived from this tradition.

Yale is the only University with societies open exclusively to seniors. Only 15 Junior Class members are selected to be initiated during commencement week each year. The candidates are always male white Protestant and usually from wealthy and powerful families, often their fathers were also members of the Order. During the Senior Year, members are called "Knights," then they become "Patriarchs" for life.

A number of "Skull and Bones" Patriarchs were to become leaders in the Secessionist movements of various Southern States. Thus, setting the stage for events leading up to the Civil War.

The Rothschild Banks loaned money to both sides during the war. This strategy greatly weakened our Nation, but failed with the Union victory.

After the civil war, the more clever method was used to take over the United States. The Rothschilds financed August Belmont, Khun Loeb and the Morgan Banks. Then they financed the Harrimans (Railroads), Carnegie (Steel) and other industrial Titans. Agents like Paul Warburg, Jacob Schiff, Bernard Baruch were then sent to the United States to effect the next phase of the takeover.

At the end of the 19th Century, Czarist Russia was the last roadblock to total Global control. England ruled most of the World. The Rothschilds had controlling influence in England, U.S., France, Germany, Austria, and Italy.

Jacob Schiff, president of Khun Loeb Bank in New York was appointed by B'nai B'rith (A secret Jewish Masonic Order meaning "Bothers of the Convenient") to be the Revolutionary Leader of the Revolution in Russia.

On January 13, 1917, Leon Trotsky arrived in the United States and received a U.S. Passport. He was frequently seen entering the palatial residence of Jacob Schiff. At these meetings, the Zionist organized agitations of 1905 in Russia were discussed as well as the lessons to be learned from their earlier failure to overthrow the Czar.

Jacob Schiff financed the training of Trotsky's Rebel Band, comprised mainly of Jews from New York's East Side, on Rockefeller's Standard Oil Company property in New Jersey.

When sufficiently trained in the techniques of guerrilla warfare and terror, Trotsky's rebel band departed with twenty million dollars worth of gold, also provided by Jacob Schiff, on the ship S.S. Kristianiafjord bound for Russia to wage the Bolshevik revolution.⁶

After the Bolshevik Revolution, Standard Oil of New Jersey brought 50% of the huge Caucasus oil field even though the property had theoretically been nationalized. In 1927, Standard Oil of New York built a refinery in Russia. Then Standard Oil concluded a deal to market Soviet Oil in Europe and floated a loan of $75 million to the Bolsheviks.

Jacob Schiff and Paul Warburg at the Kuhn Loeb Bank started a campaign for a central bank in the United States. They then helped the Rothschild's to manipulate the financial Panic of 1907. Then, the panic of 1907 was used as an argument for having a central bank to prevent such occurrences. Paul Warburg told the Banking and Currency Committee: "In the Panic of 1907, the first suggestion I made was 'Let us have a national clearing house'."

The "Federal Reserve Act" was the brainchild of Baron Alfred Rothschild of London. The final version of the Act was decided on at a secret meeting at Jekyll Island Georgia, owned by J.P. Morgan.

Present at the meeting were: A. Piatt Andrew, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Senator Nelson Aldrich, Frank Vanderlip, President of Kuhn Loeb and Co., Henry Davidson, Senior Partner of J.P. Morgan Bank, Charles Norton, President of Morgan's First National of New York, Paul Warburg, Partner in Khun Loeb and Co., and Benjamin Strong, President of Morgan's Bankers Trust Co..

The "Federal Reserve Act" of 1913 was the determining act of the international financiers in consolidating financial power in the United States. Pierre Jay, initiated into the "Order of Skull and Bones" in 1892, became the first Chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank. A dozen members of the Federal Reserve can be linked to the same "Order."⁷

The "16th Amendment" allowing Congress to tax personal income quickly followed the "Federal Reserve Act" (but it never has been ratified in all states.). This was a natural consequence, since the U.S. government could no longer create its own money to finance its operations as provided by the Constitution. For the first time in U.S. history, the people thought they had to pay income tax. (In fact, filing with the IRS is purely voluntary.)

Congressman Charles Lindbergh described the newly created Federal Reserve Bank as "the invisible government by the money power."

On November 2, 1917 in England, Lord Author James Balfour wrote a significant letter to an international banker that had been elevated to the level of a peer of the realm, Lord Rothschild:

"Dear Lord Rothschild,

"I have much pleasure in conveying to you in behalf of His Majesty's Government the following declaration of sympathy with Jewish Zionist aspirations, which has been submitted to and approved by the cabinet.

"His Majesty's Government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavours to facilitate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other Country.

"I should be grateful if you would bring this Declaration to the knowledge of the Zionist Federation.

"Yours Sincerely,

"Arthur James Balfour"

At the time of this letter, Turkey still held Palestine. But nevertheless, one Nation was promising land held by another Nation to the people of a third! This became known as the "Balfour Declaration" that created modern Israel. A few years later, Turkey was defeated and England gained control of Egypt and Palestine while France gained control of Lebanon and Syria.

Lord Rothschild's part of the bargain was to use his influence in the United States to get her involved in the World War I on the side of the Allies. This at a time when the Allies were doing very poorly in the war against Germany and Turkey.

The Zionist headquarters in Berlin was moved to New York under the leadership of Justice Louis D. Brandeis. The "Zionist Transfer Department" was used to finance the Zionist cause wherever needed.

Other significant agents for the Rothschild Bank were Edward M. House and Bernard Baruch. Bernard Baruch was instrumental in Woodrow Wilson's successful presidential campaign. Colonial Edward M. House became President Wilson's closest advisor, selecting the President's Cabinet and virtually running the State Department.

There is little doubt that, under the influence of Colonial House, Woodrow Wilson became an invaluable puppet to the Rothschilds in not vetoing the "Federal Reserve Act" and asking Congress for a "Declaration of War" against Germany.

During 1916, Colonial Edward M. House used his considerable influence with the financial institutions (many which held stock in the Federal Reserve Bank) represented by Felix and Paul Warburg, Otto H. Kahn, Louis Marburg, Henry Morgenthau, Herbert Lehman, Mortimer, and Jacob Schiff to convince Americans that it was their sacred duty to make the "World safe for democracy." Soon there after, the U.S. entered World War I.

The Illuminati sold Wilson to the American people under the slogan that he represented "the New Freedom." "The War to End all Wars" ended up being vary profitable to the Illuminati Bankers and their Associates.

Bernard Baruch, who was placed as Chairman of the War Industries Board, went from a being worth about one million dollars before the war to being worth about two hundred million after the war. Benard Baruch created what was later called the "U.S. Military Industrial Complex."

Acting again on the influence of Colonial House; on January 8, 1918, Woodrow Wilson addressed Congress and asked for the formation of the "League of Nations," one further step towards the Illuminati goal of World Government.

While at the "Paris Peace Conference" of 1919, 'House' called together the dedicated intellectuals of Wilson's "Brain Trust" which he had innovated, including John and Allen Dulles, Christian A. Herter, and Tasker H. Bliss to form a group to study international affairs.

This study group returned to New York from Paris and formed the "Council on Foreign Relations." The British counterpart is the "Royal Institute for International Affairs" (RIIA). The RIIA and CFR Policies are now coordinated by the secret Bildaburger Group which was created in 1954. Prince Ferdinand of the Netherlands was the original Chairman of the secret Bildaburger Group which largely decides the fate of the World in their secret meetings.

On February 6, 1929; Montagu Morgan, head of the Bank of England, came to Washington to confer with U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew Mellon. Next, the "Fed" raised the Prime Interest Rate. On March 9, Paul Warburg was quoted in "Financial Chronicle" as saying "If orgies of unrestricted speculation are permitted to spread too far ... the ultimate collapse is certain."

Those in the know, quietly got out of stock and invested in Gold and Silver. Then when everything was ready, the New York financiers started calling 24 hour broker call loans. Investors had to dump their stock on the market to pay the loans and this naturally caused a collapse of the market. The Illuminati controlled banks had now set into motion a series of events that would eventually bring on World War II.

The desperation caused by the great depression could be manipulated by the Illuminati to drastically alter the Constitutional government of the United States. "New Deal Policies" were a drastic change from the past. Many distressed properties were brought up for pennies on the dollar by International Banker insiders.

The "Council on Foreign Relations" created by Mandell House was increasing its influence in the United States, gradually recruiting powerful government leaders, managers of the press, military, and industrial leaders into its membership.

Averell and his brother, Roland Harriman (initiated into the "order of Skull and Bones" in 1917) financially assisted the Nazis. This financing was through the Union Bank in which they, with other members of the "Order," E.S. James and Knight Woolly, had major holdings.

After financial crash of 1931, German industry was on the brink of bankruptcy. Fritz Thyssen, the German steel baron, openly joined the Nazi Party and threw his financial support behind Hitler. The flow of funds went through the Bank Voor Handel, which controlled the Union Bank in New York.

The Union Bank was a joint Thyssen-Harriman operation. A look at the Directors in 1932 show that of the 8 Directors, 4 were members of the "Order" and 2 were members of the Nazi Party.⁷ Harriman also funneled financing to both the Soviets and the Nazis through the Brown Bros., Harriman Bank. One of his close associates was Prescott Bush, father of U.S. President, George Bush. Both Prescott and George Bush are members of "Skull and Bones."

By 1936, more than 100 United States Company's, including General Motors, Ford, International Harvester, and Du Pont had subsidiaries in Germany or cooperative agreements with that country, helping to build Germany's war machine. However, the motive was other than profit since the companies were not allowed to take any money outside of Germany.

Member of the "Council on Foreign Relations" and Freemason Grand Master, Franklin Delano Roosevelt had powerful connections, including Bernard Baruch and Mandel House, which led to his presidency. After 1936, FDR placed into effect "Pacific Trade Policies" with Japan that forced Japan to choose between capitulation or war. For her economic survival, Japan chose war.

World War II was guaranteed by the Terms of the "Treaty of Versailles" which dictated the terms of surrender of Germany following World War I. This Treaty kept the German people at a near starvation level as most of their production was used to pay war reparation payments to the Victors. It was the extreme desperation of the German people that allowed a demagogue like Hitler and his Nazi Party to raise up in power.

The Second World War was deemed a necessary part of Illuminati strategy which was expressed by the political scientist, Hegel: "To synthesize a new order, it is first necessary to create opposites sides and then bring them into conflict." This is why Illuminati bankers financed both the Soviets and the Nazis. In fact, the Illuminati really favour neither Capitalism, Communism, or Nazism. Their purpose is to create opposite forces and bring them into conflict. The modern World is a result of the drastic changes wrought by World War II.

I.G. Farben Co. had discovered a method of recovering petroleum from Coal and had entered into a licensing agreement with Standard Oil on the process, receiving 546,000 shares of Standard Oil Stock, worth about Thirty Million Dollars. I.G. Farben also entered into an agreement with Alcoa Aluminium.

The I.G. Farben Cartel produced about half of Germany's petroleum. Paul Warburg's brother, Max Warburg sat on I.G. Farben's Board of Directors. Later, I.G. Farben Co. located plants outside the Concentration Camps and used the prisoners for slave labor while supplying the gas for the gas chambers.

One question often asked is: "why would the Rothschilds help to finance the Nazis, the mortal enemy of the Jews?" The answer to that question is perhaps given by Rabbi Emanuel Rabinovich in a speech at the "Emergency Council of European Rabbis" in Budapest, Hungary on January 12, 1952:

"Greetings my children: You have been called here to recapitulate the principal steps of our new program. As you know, we had hoped to have 20 years between the wars to consolidate the great gains that we made from World War II ... We may have to repeat the Grim days of World War II when we were forced to let the Hitlerite Bands sacrifice some of our people ... The death of a few thousand Jews in exchange for world leadership is indeed a small price to pay ... To convince you of the certainty of that leadership, let me point out to you how we have turned all the inventions of the white man against him. His printing presses and radios are mouthpieces of our desires. And his heavy industry manufactures the instruments which he sends out to Asia and Africa against him ... And so with the vision of world victory before you, go back to your countries and intensify your good work, until that approaching day when Israel will reveal herself in all her glorious destiny as the Light of the World."

This speech gave added verification of the Illuminati's long range goals as outlined in the letter between Illuminati leaders Mazzini and Albert Pike in 1871 and the methods described in the "Protocols."

Poland was to be divided up between Germany and the Soviet Union according to a predetermined agreement between Hitler and Stalin. Germany attacked first and occupied the agreed upon section. Then Russia invaded and occupied her agreed upon section.

England was required by the "Versailles Treaty" to declare war against Germany after this move. However, the horrors of World War I were still fresh in the minds of most Europeans. No one wanted to fire the first shot between England and Germany. For this reason, England's Prime Minister Chamberland was called an "appeaser."

It is certain that Hitler did not want war with England. In 1933, he pointed out that Communism, in order to reach it's final objective, would eventually destroy Britain's Empire. In that event he stated: "I would be willing to help defend the British Empire by force if called upon."

Winston Churchill was a good acquaintance of Bernard Baruch, the man who helped Woodrow Wilson become President and who profited so handsomely by the U.S. entry into World War I. In one letter, Churchill wrote to Mr. Baruch: "War is coming very soon. You will be running to show over there, but I will be on the sidelines over here." Bernard Baruch convinced Winston Churchill, who had been relegated to the political backwaters because of his views on Palestine, to change his Policy toward support of the Zionist cause.

After reversing his previous stance in a speech to the House of Commons, Mr. Churchill became Prime Minister in a few short months. The "Phony War" suddenly turned hot as the new Prime Minister of England ordered air bombings of civilian population centers in Germany forcing Hitler to retaliate.

The majority of Americans did not want to get involved in another European war. But the Illuminati had other plans. They had already installed their man, Franklin D. Roosevelt in to the highest office of the land. Roosevelt soon repaid the favours owed those who placed him in office. Roosevelt issued an unconstitutional Presidential Executive Order that all privately held gold be turned in to the Banks before the end of April 1933 under maximum penalty of $10,000 or 10 years in prison or both!

The gold was turned in at $20.67 per Oz. After the majority of the gold was turned in, the gold price was fixed at $35 per Oz. Insiders merely held their gold in foreign banks and later, sold it back at the higher price!

Publicly, FDR stated to the American people: "Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars." There is a good body of evidence that Roosevelt repeatedly deceived the American public in the period proceeding Pearl Harbour. The fact is that FDR would not have been re-elected on a war platform in 1940.

Top government officials in Washington D.C. had plenty advanced warning of the attack on Pearl Harbour. On January 27, 1941; U.S. Ambassador to Tokyo, Joseph Grew wrote a letter to FDR's State Department warning "That in the event of trouble breaking out between the U.S. and Japan, the Japanese intended in making an attack against Pearl Harbour." By August of 1941, Congressman Dies personally submitted evidence of Japan's planned attack on Pearl Harbour, including a strategic map prepared by the Japanese Imperial Military Intelligence Department to Roosevelt. So, the attack was no surprise to Roosevelt. Congressman Dies was told not to release this information to the public!

On November 26, 1941; FDR sent a war ultimatum to Japan: "Withdraw all troops from Indo China and Manchuria - or else." Most Asian experts agree that this ultimatum allowed Japan no choice but to attack the U.S. Navel fleet at Pearl Harbour.

The Japanese Ambassador to the U.S., Prince Kenoye tried to seek other alternatives to war with the U.S., but FDR continually refused to speak with the Ambassador because war with Japan was already planned. FDR had already given approval to General Chanault to launch air attacks against Japan from China with the "Flying Tigers."

The Japanese "Purple Code" had been broken with deciphering machines which were supplied to all important commanders except at Pearl Harbour. By the early morning of Dec. 7, Japanese messages indicating that the attack was impending were decoded and forwarded to Washington D.C. On Dec. 7, at 9:30 AM EST, Admiral Stark met with General George C. Marshall at the Navy Department.

Stark wanted to radio Admiral Kimmel at Pearl Harbour. Marshall said he was afraid that the Japs would intercept the message and complicate matters. Marshall said that he would personally wire a message to Kimmel. Marshall finally sent a telegram to Kimmel warning of the Japanese attack. But, it was delayed sufficiently to arrive after the attack was over.

The American Forces at Pearl Harbour were not prepared for the attack. Ammunition for the anti-aircraft guns was stored in warehouses, not beside the guns where it was needed for immediate response.

Aircraft were parked in circles with their propellers facing inward. Since the planes had to be pushed backwards by hand to get out of this position and airborne they were "sitting ducks" for the Japanese aircraft. It was reported that Roosevelt had ordered the planes grouped in this fashion because he feared sabotage to the planes.

After the U.S was attacked at Pearl Harbour, our main war effort was directed towards Europe. By 1943, the tide of war had changed to the Allies favour. North Africa had been secured. Sicily and Italy had been invaded. Then, the Allied advance paused as preparations for the invasion of France were being prepared.

Another figure making tremendous strides in his career was Dwight D. Eisenhower. In March 1941, he was promoted from a Lt. Colonel to a full Colonel. Three months later, he was promoted to Chief of Staff of the U.S. Third Army. In another three months, he became a Brigadier General, proving once again that it is not what you know - but who you know that really counts. Eisenhower was a friend of Bernard Baruch!

By December 1941, he was called to Washington by General Marshall and brought into war planning at the highest level. Following this, Eisenhower enjoyed a series of promotions until on December 24, 1942, he was made Supreme Allied Commander of Europe.

After Germany's army was pushed out of Rome by the Allied advance, General Mark Clark stated: "After the fall of Rome, Kesserling's army could have been destroyed - if we had been allowed to shoot the works in a final offensive." The Allies could have then easily advance across the Adriatic into Yugoslavia and then into Vienna, Budapest, and Prague.

But instead, Mark Clark's army was halted and weakened by removing men to be used in the Normandy invasion. This strange tactic prolonged the war by at least one year, cost the Allies the lives of about 100,000 men and drastically changed the political nature of Eastern Europe in the following decades.

To understand why Supreme Allied Commander Eisenhower did this, it is necessary to consider the "Quebec Conference" of the Allies in 1943. The policy which was insisted upon by General George C. Marshall, was based on a document called: "Russia's Position." The document stated that Russia's post-war position in Europe will be a dominate one.

Commander George Earl, former American Minister to Austria from 1935-1939 and to Bulgaria from 1940-1942, was Roosevelt's personal Navel attaché in Istanbul in the spring of 1943. He had been approached by the head of the German Secret Service, Admiral Wilhelm Canaris with a proposal for the surrender of Germany.

The German Generals had a more realistic picture of the war than Hitler and wanted a "Truce" with England and the United States so that they could concentrate on a defence against the Russians. They also proposed turning Hitler over to the Allies.

Later, the German Ambassador, Friz Von Paper made a similar proposal to George Earl. Earl promptly sent a coded message via diplomatic pouch to President Roosevelt. The proposals of surrender were never answered by the President!

Obviously, an honourable surrender of Germany was not part of the plan to create the Soviet "social experiment" by the Illuminati bankers who influenced President Roosevelt, General Marshall, General Eisenhower, Churchill, and Stalin.

Meanwhile, operation "Lend Lease," to offer U.S. military aid to the Soviets, was in full swing. Major Racey Jordan was appointed liaison officer with the Soviets.

Jordan was amazed to learn that Russian Colonel Anatoli Kotikov had considerable influence with Roosevelt's aid, Harry Hopkins.

Whenever Kotikov couldn't get items the Russians needed, he would call Mr. Hopkins in Washington and get results! Often, items needed by our own forces in the battlefield were diverted to Russia.

In one incident, Major Jordan inspected a diplomatic pouch headed for Russia, over the objections of the Russians. Inside, he saw papers describing atomic fission. A list of materials on the plane included two pounds of uranium. He did not realize the significance of what he had seen at the time because atomic weapons research was classified top secret!

Major Jordan kept a dairy with detailed notes of all that he observed of the Lend Lease operations. Later, he wrote a book, "From Major Jordon's Diaries," describing many little known aspects of Lend Lease.

Not only were the Germans not allowed to surrender, neither were the Japanese, at least not at first! They issued a formal unconditional surrender in March 1945. Their offer was ignored! The fire bombing of Tokyo proceeded next, destroying sixteen square miles of Tokyo and leaving millions homeless. Then came the use of the atomic bombs against Nagasaki and Hiroshima!

Chapter 5

The Aftermath

The massive rebuilding of Germany and Japan after the war a source of astronomical profits to the International Bankers. The Japanese and German people are excellent workers and managers. But, the International Bankers are the shadowy figures behind the scenes that provide the true leadership of Japan and Germany and the New World Order.

The "Council on Foreign Relations" (CFR), started to get some real influence. Old national sovereignties were dissolved while new International Organizations like the CFR's creation, the United Nations were organized and strengthened. The United Nations took on some post war governing functions. Later, the CFR and it's affiliates like the "Institute of the Pacific Rim" (IPR) and "Foreign Policy Association" (FPA) would virtually direct all U.S. foreign policy. Notably, the IPR is credited with handing over China to the Communists under the guidance of General George C. Marshall and later, formulating our Vietnam War Policy. The CFR helped considerably to create the Soviet Empire.

The Illuminati's control over the Soviet Union was strengthened by the war. Lend Lease and the secret agreements at Yalta between Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin also strengthened the Soviet Empire. The ensuing and well engineered "Cold War" between the Soviet empire and the West strengthened the Illuminati's position in the rest of the World.

The hot wars like Korea and Vietnam were engineered so as not to actually bring the U.S. and Soviets into conflict while providing justification for the existence of "national security" secret Agencies like the CIA, NSA, and NSC. The covert operations arm of the CIA was used extensively since the 1950's to subvert non-aligned governments not already controlled. Then military strongmen were placed in power that would adopt policies that were favourable to the multinational Corporations directed by the Illuminati.

In one incident, U.S. President, John F. Kennedy, not willing "to be a good team player," was preparing to withdraw U.S. "Advisors" from Vietnam. The withdrawal Order was issued in October of 1963. He was assassinated in November and as soon as his successor was sworn in, a massive escalation of the war developed.

Investigative attorney, Mark Lane developed Court evidence that CIA Paymaster, E. Howard Hunt met with Jack Ruby and later paid CIA hit men in a Dallas Motel the evening before the assassination. This is described in Lane's book "Plausible Denial." This shows a connection between the International Bankers and the CIA and the Mafia. Woe unto anyone who gets in the way of their plans!

New international financial institutions like the "International Monetary Fund" (IMF) the "World Bank" and the "Bank of International Settlements" were crated to extend economic hegemony through the Planet.

The outrageous national membership fees of the IMF runs into billions of dollars per year, per Nation. When Nations have problems repaying their loans, strict austerity programs are imposed which cause considerable hardship on the poorer citizens of that Nation.

In 1986; for example, Brazil stripped her rain forests, mined her gold, forced low cost labour onto her people and had a $10 billion trade surplus. This was the year that the U.S. suffered a $50 billion trade deficit. But, the interest payment on Brazil's foreign loans also came to $10 Billion, so it was all for nothing!

When Brazil decided to default on the payments, her credit rating dropped to zero. Without short term credit, Brazil was unable to conduct normal international business transactions and lost even more in trade than the interest payments had amounted to.

Within six months, Brazil had reconsidered her position and started negotiations with the bankers. A lesser rate of interest was finally agreed upon. But, Brazil was persuaded to borrow $13 billion more! The lenders don't really want the debt paid back. The debt gives them leverage and the debt servicing or interest payments gives the "cash flow."

Often, "austerity measures" are imposed on Nations that have a difficult time repaying their loans. Social programs like health, education, or basic food subsidies for the people of the Nation are reduced drastically. A recent epidemic of cholera in Latin America is directly related to these "austerity programs" and the reduction of health and sanitary programs carried out by the government.

These social evils are a result of ignorance of the true nature of money, it's purpose and it's creation. Honourable leaders of Nations would not borrow until their countrymen were in bondage.

Knowledgeable leaders would insure that their Country controlled the currency rather than International Bankers. A national law ought to be passed forbidding Congress from borrowing money.

Also, Congress should Nationalize the Federal Reserve Bank to regain it's Constitutional authority to mint currency then the borrowing would be unnecessary!

Money is nothing more than a way of keeping score. It has no more intrinsic value than notches on a stick or binary on off state in a computer memory bank. The productivity of a people is where true wealth lies. Money keeps track of that productivity and allows the facile transfer of that productivity.

The central banks that print currency and lend it at interest is the prime culprit. This money that was created from nothing is lent out. But at a later time, the Central Bankers end up owning the entire productivity of Nations.

There can be little doubt that foreign debt is the way the International Bankers drain the wealth from Nations or that the IMF is the greatest legalized racket on the Planet. A different means of keeping score is clearly needed.

Chapter 6

Control of Information

The Illuminati started disseminating their propaganda through "Reading Clubs" prior to the French Revolution in order to mould public opinion in a favourable disposition towards the goals of the Illuminati.

Later, during the nineteenth century after the Rothschilds controlled the Bank of England, a controlling interest was also purchased in the Jewish operated "Reuters Newspaper" in London. Also, controlling interests were purchased in "Wolff" and the French "Havas" newspapers, creating a virtual international news monopoly.

In 1942, the general manager of "Associated Press," Kent Cooper, spoke of this international news monopoly in his book "Barriers Down:" "... the news of the world was it's own private property to be withheld, to be discoloured to it's own purposes, or to be sold to whom and to where they directed."

The "Council on Foreign Relations" (CFR) was created in 1921 as the American branch of the "British Royal Institute on International Affairs" (RIIA). The RIIA was the brainchild of Cecil Rhodes as a means to expand British hegemony globally and to regain Britain's control of the United States. The CFR was responsible for the creation of the "United Nations" and presently directs all U.S. foreign policy.

The world news sources and wire services have members of the "Council on Foreign Relations" (CFR) directing and working for them. These include; "Reuters," "Associated Press," "United Press International," "Wall Street Journal," "Boston Globe," "New York Times," "Los Angeles Times," and "Washington Post," "ABC," "NBC," CBS," and "RCA." Most national and international news is derived from these sources.

The CFR is also heavily entrenched in the major energy companies, the military and the U.S. Government. So, with the CFR managing the news and molding public opinion about world affairs, they are in a key position to influence the direction of our democratic government. The Illuminati's Order of "Skull and Bones" forms an inner circle of the CFR and has control of other forms of public information:

Henry Luce of the "Time-Life" syndicate, William Buckley of "National Review," Alfred Cowles of "Minneapolis Star," Emmert Bates of "Litton Educational Systems," Richard Ely Danielson of "Atlantic Monthly," Russell Davenport of "Fortune" and "Nieman Fellowship's" first Director, Archibald Mc Leash are all members of the "Order of Skull and Bones."⁷

In 1880, Members of the "Order" created both the "American Economic Association" and "The American Historical Association." Andrew Dickson White was the first President of "American Historical Association."

By the turn of the century, the "Order of Skull and Bones" had already made significant penetration into the educational establishment. Timothy Dwight was President of Yale, later to be followed by Arthur T. Hadly. Andrew Dickson White was President of Cornell. Daniel C. Gilman was President of John Hopkins University. All men were members of the "Order." Later, Daniel Gilman became President of Carnegie Institute.

The philosophy and practice of the present public school system is due to the massive infusion of funds and grants from private foundations which are directed by Illuminati organizations. These same foundations, can virtually dictate which textbooks can be used in the public school system. This one reason most people don't know the true history of the 20th Century. Any history that goes against the official line of the "American Historical Association" will find it impossible to obtain research funding or publication in "acceptable" forms.

On the other hand, in 1946, the "Rockefeller Foundation" allotted $139,000 to create an official version of "World War Two" that hid the massive U.S. Corporate assistance in building the Nazi war machine. One major contributor to the Nazi effort was Rockefeller's own Standard Oil Co..

The "Ford Foundation," was originally created from Henry Ford's Auto Manufacturing fortune. But eventually, members of the "Order of Skull and Bones" infiltrated the foundation and used its financial power to influence the nature of public education.

For example, Mc George Bundy (a member of the Order of Skull and Bones) was the National Security Advisor during the Viet Nam debacle. In 1966, he became the President of the "Ford Foundation."

Bundy then appointed another member of the "Order," Harold Howe II, as Vice President in charge of the Education and Research Department. Their flagrant misuse of Foundation money caused the remaining Ford family members to resign in disgust.⁷

The official history of the John F. Kennedy assassination reflects the "Warren Commission Report" i.e., the President was killed by a lone assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald. The true account will demonstrate that the CIA worked in conjunction with DISCO, organized crime and Cuban Exiles to have the President assassinated in a large scale conspiracy. DISCO is an acronym for the super secret "Defence Industrial Security Cooperation Organization."

Some of the names of the conspirators are "Orlando Bosch," "E. Howard Hunt," "Frank Sturgis," (all CIA employees) and "Jack Rubenstien" (alias "Jack Ruby" of organized crime.). The CIA paid off some large gambling debts that Jack Rubenstien owed organized crime figures to enlist his aid in the Dallas shooting.

"Lee Harvey Oswald" was also a one time employee of the CIA, but at the time of the shooting, he was working for Jack Ruby and he was set up to be the "fall guy." Jack Ruby had to kill him before he talked.

Many of these facts were brought out in the "House Special Committee on Assassinations" hearings in 1976. But, most of the information was sequestered in the National Archives and not to be made public until the year of 2029!

After the hearings, Congress did pass a Resolution forbidding the CIA from carrying out covert operations within the territorial boundaries of the United States.

What is most interesting is that the official media had already determined that the Presidential assassination had not been a conspiracy within 9 hours of the shooting at Dealy Plaza. Headlines stated: "Oswald acted alone!" This blatant statement was made even though an actual investigation had barely started. Obviously, these media statements were also a prepared part of the conspiracy which is a typical demonstration of how the Illuminati uses the media to mould public opinion.

The Illuminati wanted J. F. Kennedy out of the way because he had his own agenda which were in conflict with Illuminati plans.

For similar reasons, they had his brother killed in 1968 after he had won the Democratic Presidential Nomination. Sirhan Sirhan, another assassin acting alone, was actually subjected to sophisticated narcohypnosis techniques developed by the CIA in their MK ULTRA mind control program. To insure that Sirhan Sirhan did not miss, Howard Hughes private body guard was also present. He was hired as a rental security guard to replace one who had called in sick. His gun fired the extra bullets that couldn't be accounted for during the later investigation. He disappeared right after the shooting, never to be seen again!

And once again, these facts will never appear in the "official" media reports, although some of them may appear in the small independent publications that have not been taken over by the Illuminati organizations like the "Council on Foreign Relations" and the "Order of Skull and Bones."
